early education and intervention network of new hampshire

The early education and intervention network of New Hampshire, which began in 1976, is a statewide volunteer organization of professionals and families involved in supporting infants and young children with special needs from birth to six years.

eein provides:

- training on topics relevant to serving young children with special needs and their families
- parent-professional partnerships
- opportunities for members to network
- quarterly newsletters
- mentorships for professionals and individuals who work with children and families

about eein

eein continues to be the only volunteer organization in New Hampshire to focus on programs for professionals and individuals serving children ages birth to six years with special needs.

Our membership includes families, therapists, child-care providers, educators, psychologists, technical assistance specialists, allied health professionals, and others.

mission

eein promotes professional development of individuals serving young children with special needs.
